

Mechanical Fitter & Team Leader
Filling / Packaging Machinery
Nelson, Lancashire
£Competitive + benefits

Riggs Autopack is a successful UK designer and manufacturer of filling and packing machines. Our products have a superb reputation for assisting customers in the food, industrial, chemical and pharmaceutical industries with the filling of sensitive, delicate and difficult to handle products.

Due to internal promotion, we are now looking for an experienced Mechanical Fitter with Team Leader experience to join us.

Responsibilities of this role include:

- Interpreting 3D models, 2D electrical drawings and component manufacturing drawings to assemble a wide range of equipment – from machine sub-assemblies, through to automated filling lines.
- Routing pipework, pneumatics and electrical cable runs through machinery to a high standard.
- Taking responsibility for working with and supervising a small team of dedicated Mechanical and Electrical Fitters.
- Driving the supply of components for machine build by working with supervisors in the machine shop and fabrication areas.
- Providing feedback / debrief from machine builds and installation to the design department.
- Undertaking occasional on-site installations alongside the service engineers and providing customer training and support at site.
- Ensuring adherence to standards of overall build quality of our products and compliance to regulations.
- Being able to work independently and as part of a team.

You will be a time served Mechanical Fitter with Team Leader/Supervisor experience and knowledge of pneumatic systems, air cylinders, air actuated valves, mechanical valves, pumps, small pipework assemblies, conveyors and materials handling systems.

Ideally you will also have an electrical appreciation of motors, drives, controls, automation / PLC controlled equipment and associated panel wiring and cabling.
